ABOUT ME

Currently studying Web Development at Porto's Polytechnic Institute. I'm extremely interested in Web Development, especially the front-end side. I'm seeking to further my knowledge and own my skills and there's no better way than to actually join a great team of developers and tackle projects together.

WORK EXPERIENCE

2023

All Team

Front End Developer – Internship

Summer internship where I developed reusable UI components using React along with Storybook. I collaborated with design and development teams to ensure consistency and usability. Additionally, I fixed bugs in existing projects, improving functionality and reliability.
